

· High rates of asthma · Lack of green space · Harmful pesticides · Lack of quality produce · Lead based paint ·

· Access to clean water · Toxic waste dumping · Depletion of natural resources · Need for conservation education · Safe housing · Food safety ·

SAVE THE DATE!!
Saturday, Nov. 6th

The Environmental Section of
The American Public Health
Association cordially invite you to:

An Environmental Justice Forum

The Focus: Issues, Partnerships, and Best Practices to Address
Environmental Injustice and Health Issues

At this meeting, leaders from community-based organizations from across the country will come together to discuss their local Environmental Justice and Health Issues. The agenda will include discussion of ways to build capacity to address EJ and health issues, the use of partnerships to address EJ and health issues, federal initiatives to address EJ and health issues, and best practices.

Come share your story!!!

Who: Community leaders and members, Organizations, Students, Environmental justice advocates, Government officials, University partners, Researchers and other stakeholders

ALL ARE WELCOMED!!!

When: Saturday, November 6, 2010

Time: 4pm-7:30pm

Where: Denver Convention Center
Room TBA

Cost: FREE!!!

For more details contact:

Dr. Simone Charles—912-478-1317 (scharles@georgiasouthern.edu)

Or A.J. Cuevas—720-270-8768 (azitakj@gmail.com)

American
Public Health
Association

· “Green” jobs · Prevent housing development near or on toxic sites · “Right to know” about environmental harms · Protecting our water supply ·

· Lack of clean safe play spaces · Polluted air · Toxic toys · Lack of appropriate safety equipment in factories ·